

TECHMED SOLUTIONS can save you thousands of dollars and valuable time, while your critical systems continue to save lives. Our highly trained professionals restore high-tech medical equipment damaged by: floods, fires, environmental contaminants, contracting debris, and other disastrous events.

Time is key when you're faced with a compromised medical system and patients waiting for treatment. Equipment downtime is substantially reduced with our patented process, extensive training and strict guidelines. If needed, our rigging and trucking services also make it easy to "pack out" damaged equipment. With our comprehensive "turnkey" process, let us be part of your contingency plan when these emergencies arise.
